Legislation

UK Public Disclosure Act 1998 came into force on 2nd July 1999. The Act promotes the public interest.

Scope: This procedure covers major concerns as illustrated below:

Conduct which is an offence or breach of the law
Disclosures relating to miscarriage of justice
Health and safety risks, including risks to the public as well as other employees
Damage to the environment
Unauthorised use of public funds
Unethical conduct

Thus any serious concerns any employees have about the operation of school or the conduct of staff or members of the Governing Body can be reported under this policy.

How to raise a concern:

As a first step you should normally raise concerns with your immediate line manager. However, depending on the seriousness and sensitivity of the issue it may be appropriate to raise the issue with the Chair of Governors.

Concerns are best raised in writing. Staff are encouraged to use the following format:

- The background and history of the concern
- The reason why you are particularly concerned about the situation

If you are not able to put your concern in writing, you should meet with the appropriate person as detailed above.

You are encouraged to put your name to your allegation. Concerns expressed anonymously are much less powerful but will be considered at the discretion of the Governing Body.

You may wish to consider discussing your concern with a colleague or trade union representative and you may wish to bring a representative along to any meetings you may attend.

The School recognises that reporting a concern can be difficult. If what you are saying is true you should have nothing to fear. If you raise a concern in good faith you will have nothing to fear.

All concerns raised will be treated in confidence and every effort made not to reveal your identity if you so wish. However, you need to be aware that you may need to come forward as a witness.

How the school will respond:

The school will respond to your concerns. Where appropriate the matter raised may:

- Be investigated within the school
- Be referred to the Chair of Governors Be referred to the police
- Form the subject of an independent enquiry

If the matter is dealt with within school, the Headteacher (or another member of the senior leadership team nominated by the Headteacher) or Governing Body will respond to the concern. Where there is a concern regarding a Headteacher, the Chair of Governors, will respond.
